FOREWORD

The National Development Planning Commission (NDPC) and the United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF) have been collaborating over the years to enhance the monitoring and evaluation (M&E) of performance indicators at the national and subnational levels, and build capacity towards an effective and efficient M&E system, among others. One of the objectives of the collaboration is to strengthen a multipurpose system, which supports the generation of evidence to inform decision-making at national and district levels, towards more effective and well-targeted resource allocation.

In 2014, UNICEF introduced the District League Table (DLT) index, in collaboration with the Ghana Center for Democratic Development (CDD-Ghana). This initiative supported NDPC’s role in monitoring and evaluating development outcomes at the subnational level, by highlighting the inequalities and disparities in the wellbeing of people across the country. The DLT provides a multi-sectoral, integrated assessment of how Ghana is developing across all its 260<sup>1</sup> Districts, based on selected sectors and indicators.

Overtime, the DLT has become an important tool in promoting transparency, accountability and evidence-based decision-making at the national and subnational levels. It has been providing citizens with a platform to demand answers from metropolitan, municipal, and district assemblies (MMDAs) in relation to the status of their wellbeing. It has set up an interactive relationship and interface between national and local priorities, as they relate to the broad objective of the National Medium-Term Development Policy Framework “Creating Prosperity and Equal Opportunity for All”.

The recognition of the DLT index as an advocacy tool has informed national dialogue, provided direction and information on highlighted sectors of Ghana’s development across the country, and has revealed those that lag behind in specific areas of development. Significant efforts have also been made to enhance the quality of the analysis, despite challenges related to the availability, regularity, and accuracy of administrative data on development outcomes at the district level.

The 2020 version of the DLT has assessed seventeen (17) indicators under five (5) sectors, with a focus on the survival and development of children. The selected indicators have also been broadened to incorporate Sustainable Development Goals and the Agenda 2063 indicators, to generate appropriate district level data and analysis for achieving these international commitments.

The NDPC, in collaboration with UNICEF and all partners, is committed to owning and sustaining the process to ensure that the DLT serves as one of the official assessment tools for determining the level of disparities in development across the districts. It shall serve as an important reference point for more equitable resource allocation and social investment, to reduce disparities across the country.

Together, let’s use this assessment tool to ensure that no child and no vulnerable group are left behind in achieving Ghana’s medium-term national development goals and the SDGs.

Dr. Kodjo Mensah-Abrampa

Director-General, NDPC

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The District League Table (DLT) is a tool that provides an overall assessment of disparities in national development in Ghana, by ranking all the 260 districts to determine the most developed and most challenged across the five sectors on which they were assessed. The DLT seeks to provide evidence regarding the levels of disparities across the regions and subnational, for use in informing the formulation of development plans and budgets at national and subnational levels. The report could also help promote more equitable and efficient resource allocation and expenditures. This year's DLT has its theme focusing on child inclusive development, as part of efforts to reduce inequalities and disparities among children across the country.

The specific objectives of the DLT are:

1. To enable Government gain better understanding of the status of wellbeing across the districts in the country;
2. To provide the evidence and basis for more equitable resource allocation and social investment to reduce disparities between districts;
3. To increase social accountability around service delivery between national/local government and citizens; and
4. To improve state responsiveness in development and service delivery at the district level.

The 2020 DLT, like the previous edition, goes beyond the overall scores and rankings of each district. It has also analyzed, reported on, and mapped out the sector level rankings, showing the level of wellbeing of the population for each district in the selected sectors. Additionally, there is also a regional ranking to show how the districts are performing within their respective regions. Metropolitans, Municipals and Districts are also ranked separately in order to demonstrate how they compare with their peers.

The 2020 edition of the DLT has a focus on child related indicators and aims at highlighting the inequalities and disparities among children across the 260 districts. The analysis for the DLT has been strengthened this year to provide a more comprehensive and realistic assessment of the level of social services and infrastructure across the districts. This was done through the exemption of some sectors and their related indicators, while including some catalytical sectors for the analysis<sup>2</sup>.

The 2020 DLT covers five sectors (education, health, water and sanitation, information and communication technology, and governance) and the number of indicators has increased from nine (9) in the 2018/2019 edition to seventeen (17), thereby significantly increasing the reliability and acceptability of the ranking in wellbeing across the 260 districts. A factor analysis methodology was applied, thus providing appropriate weights for each indicator in each sector.

The data values for the indicators were collated from the MDAs and MMDAs on the five sectors. It must be emphasized that the DLT is not computed through a survey but uses administrative data which is generated from the district to a national level database.

This 2020 DLT has provided the top ranked and lowest ranked districts per each sector, as well as the overall ranking for each district<sup>3</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> Among the considerations for the selection of an indicator, it must be in a key priority sector for people's wellbeing and district development, it must be represented as an output or outcome, it must have available data from every district and annually, in the administrative databases of the respective MDAs

<sup>3</sup> Regional rankings have also been provided in the report.

- Education: Ga West Municipal in the Greater Accra Region emerged as the top ranked district with the highest score, while the lowest ranked district is Ayawaso North, also in the Greater Accra Region
- Health: Shai-Osudoku District in the Greater Accra Region recorded the highest score, while the lowest ranked district is Ablekuma West Municipal, also located in Greater Accra Region.
- Water and Sanitation: Adentan Municipal in the Greater Accra Region is the top ranked district, while Chereponi District in the North East Region, is the lowest ranked district.
- Information and Communication Technology: Ablekuma North Municipal in the Greater Accra Region recorded the highest score, while Mion District in the Northern Region is the lowest ranked district in the sector.
- Governance: In the area of governance, Mampong Municipal, Saboba District and Ayawaso West Municipal in the Ashanti, Northern and Greater Accra Regions ranked first, while Savelugu Municipal also in the Northern Region recorded the lowest score in the implementation of its annual action plan.

The overall top ranked District in the 2020 District League Table was Adentan Municipal in the Greater Accra Region, while the Sene East District in the Bono East Region was the lowest ranked district.

It is expected that the DLT will be used by MDAs, District Assemblies, Members of Parliament, NGOs and Development Partners, to mobilize resources for the development of lower ranked or lagging districts within specific sectors to enhance equitable resource allocation, in order not to leave any district behind in the march towards achieving the SDGs.

1. INTRODUCTION

The District League Table (DLT) ranks all districts in Ghana based on selected indicators from various sectors of the economy. The DLT has been produced and disseminated annually since 2014 with various modifications on indicators and methodology.

Background

The District League Table (DLT) was developed by UNICEF, in partnership with CDD-Ghana in 2014, as a tool for tracking national development and highlighting districts that are doing well and those challenged in terms of wellbeing of their populations. The 2020 DLT ranks the districts from 1st place down to the district facing the most challenges in 260th place.

Key partners over the years have been the Ministry of Local Government, Decentralization and Rural Development, the Ghana Statistical Service, and the Office of the Head of Local Government Service, including all the MDAs and public institutions that have been providing data for the analysis. The Regional and District Planning and Coordinating Units have also been involved, especially during the regional pre-launches and post-launch events. A couple of Select Committees of Parliament, notably the Committees on Local Government and Poverty Reduction have also appreciated the outcomes of the DLT and committed to support efforts at a more equitable resource allocation to the districts.

Activities, with respect to past DLTs, especially the National and Regional Launches have generated a significant amount of public interest with the support of the media, leading to increased awareness of existing geographic disparities among districts. The report has also generated discussions at the district level, and therefore provided a platform for enhanced social accountability between District Assemblies and their citizens.

Objectives of the DLT

The objectives of the DLT have not changed over the years, and are as follows:

1. To enable Government gain better understanding of the status of wellbeing across the districts in the country;
2. To provide the evidence and basis for more equitable resource allocation and social investment to reduce disparities between districts; and
3. To increase social accountability around service delivery between national/local government and citizens;

Goal and Partnership for the DLT

Even though the DLT has raised issues regarding quality of service delivery and wide disparities in wellbeing among the districts, the bigger objective of generating action by Government and its MDAs towards ensuring better prioritisation and equitable resource allocation, has not been achieved.

That is why in 2020, the partnership structure has changed to involve NDPC, the government's lead agency for national development planning, to enhance the use of the DLT. The goal of the 2020 DLT however remains the same as previous ones, that is, to generate appropriate district level data, conduct an independent analysis, and make findings and recommendations with key messages to engender policy dialogue and actions at both the national and district levels, towards reducing inequalities and not leaving any child behind in achieving the SDGs.

Scope

The DLT concept is developed around a framework composed of two important elements: sectors and indicators. The sectors represent conceptual categories that could be measured to determine development progress. Each sector is composed of related indicators that measures possible aspects of the sector's development. Thus, selecting appropriate indicator sets which best capture the development concept within the sector is critical for designing the index of DLT.

The scope of the DLT, in terms of the indicators covered, is mainly influenced by the following criteria:

- It must be a key priority sector for people's wellbeing and district development;
- It must be represented as an output or outcome, not inputs or investments made;
- It must have available data from every district, and must be annually available in administrative databases of the respective MDAs at the national and district levels; and
- It must help in assessing equity, accessibility, and quality in the selection of the indicators.

At the early stages of the sector and indicator selection process, over ten sectors and sixty indicators were proposed. Unfortunately, due to the lack of or insufficient data, the vast majority of indicators were dropped. The sectors and their respective indicators which met the criteria for the 2020 District League Table are as follows:

2. METHODOLOGY

This section describes the methodology that was used to calculate the 2020 DLT in Ghana. The section provides a step-by-step overview of the process of constructing the 2020 DLT, which includes data collection, dealing with missing values or data non-availability, data transformation, assessment of the fit, and aggregation.

2.1. Data Cleaning, Standardization and Indicator Selection

The report adapts the methodology and appropriates steps of Stern et al. (2018) and Kapoor et al. (2017)<sup>4</sup> to estimate scores for ranking districts in Ghana, based on existing indicators.

For some indicators, the coverage was not 100 percent for all districts. Some districts did not report the required information. The unavailable information or data of such districts were imputed by using averages of selected similar districts within a region. Average of metropolitans, municipals and districts categories for each region were used for the imputation.

The indicators for measuring the DLT index are measured in different units and are incomparable. Indicators with less variations but measured on larger scales compared to other variables may appear to have much greater variation than it does. Hence, the importance of standardization to facilitate comparison. Standardization helps in solving the problem by making indicators unitless as it rescales them with a mean of zero and standard deviation of one.

$$X_{new} = \frac{X - \mu}{\sigma}$$

Define  $X_{new}$  and  $X$ . Where  $\mu$  and  $\sigma$  are population mean and population standard deviation, respectively.

Indicators set within a sector are expected to capture the development concept in the best possible manner. Thus, the indicator selection process involves the inclusion of only the indicators that are conceptually linked to each other and effectively describe the concept of the sector's development. Indicators that did not meet the criteria were excluded from the analysis. The assessment of multiple aspects of fit between indicators and the resultant scores are critical in producing the DLT Index for comparison and ranking. In this regard, a series of fitness test are conducted in the calculation of the index. First, there is the need to understand the relationship between indicators and the concept of development in the sector. The exploratory factor analysis (EFA) is used to test the underlying factors among the set of selected indicators of each sector. This helps with identifying relevant indicators for a sector. Second, the Kaiser-Meyer-Olkin (KMO) measure of sampling adequacy (MSA) is used to evaluate the goodness of fit of the factor analysis.

The MSA is a single value that is used to assess the adequacy of the inter-correlations of a set of variables, and each variable for an EFA. The KMO index ranges from 0 to 1, as a rule of thumb, KMO scores should be above 0.5 (Williams et al., 2010). The indicators that are statistically incompatible are removed at the end of the EFA process.

2.2. Calculation of Sectoral Index Scores for Each District

The DLT index uses the Principal Component Analysis (PCA) for calculating the weights of indicators within a sector. Scoring coefficients are used as weight of the indicators in the construction of the sectoral score. Thus, instead of using equal weight for each indicator, factor analysis uses the correlation among indicators and between the unobserved factors to generate weight for each indicator. The sectoral sum values are calculated by summing the weighted values using the following formula:

$$Sector\_sum_j = \sum weight_{ij} * indicator_{ij}$$

Where  $i$  is for each indicator, and  $j$  is for each district.

The computed sums in each sector are then transformed into values ranging from a scale of 0 to 100 scale, for the ease of comparison across districts. These rescaled sectoral scores are calculated by dividing the difference between sectoral sum score for each district and the lowest sum score among districts, with the difference between the highest and lowest sum scores. The formula below was used for the transformation:

$$Sector\ transformed_j = \frac{Sector\ sum_j - Worst\ Value}{Best\ Value - Worst\ Value} \times 100$$

where Best Value represents the highest sectoral sum score and Worst Value represents the lowest sectoral sum score among districts.

2.3. Derivation of DLT Index Score for Each District

The five (5) sectors—education, health, water and sanitation, information and communication technology, and governance—of the economy, being used to compute the overall DLT index for each district, are believed to reflect equally important aspects of the development progress. Therefore, while calculating the index, no priority is given to any sector. Equal weights are assigned to each of them to highlight their role in development. The DLT Index Score for each district is derived by averaging sectoral transformed scores of the district.

$$DLT_j = 1/5 \sum_j Sector\_transformed_j$$

where  $DLT_j$  is the DLT index for each district.

SECTOR ANALYSIS

The results of the 2020 DLT are presented in the following sectoral analysis, maps and tables with scores and ranking distributions among metropolitans, municipals and districts (MMDs) for these selected sectors: education, health, water and sanitation, governance, information and communication technology, and their total scores. Factor scores for sectors with more than one indicator or standardized scores in the case of one indicator are reported. The computed factor scores of all metropolitans, municipals and districts in Ghana are used to compute quintiles or groups of MMDs in five categories. Each map shows the distribution of MMDs rankings according to these scores, with the top category MMDs colour coded in cream to the lowest scoring group of MMDs coloured in dark red. The top ten (10) and least ten (10) performing MMDs are presented and analyzed with tables. The entire scores and rankings of all the MMDs in all the five sectors are reported in Annex I of this report<sup>5</sup>.

3.1. Education

Indicators used to measure the progress in the education sector include gross access rate to kindergarten, final exams pass rate at BECE, net enrolment rate, transition rate, and completion rate at primary and JHS. Though gender parity index (GPI) was part of the initial indicators in the education sectors, exploratory factor analysis (EFA) suggested that GPI does not share the expected relationship with other variables. Thus, the indicator was dropped.

3.1.1. District Analysis

Table 2 presents the top ten MMDs in education. Seventy percent of the top ten MMDs are in the category of municipals. None of the six metropolitan areas are found in the top ten districts in the education sector performance. Four out of the ten top MMDs are in the Greater Accra Region. Both Central and Ashanti Regions have two MMDs in the top ten districts. Only one district from the entire five regions in the northern part of the country—Kumbungu District—appeared in the top ten districts.

<sup>5</sup> Sectoral and Total DLT scores and rankings of all districts by metropolitan, municipal, and districts as well as regions are reported in the annex II of this report.

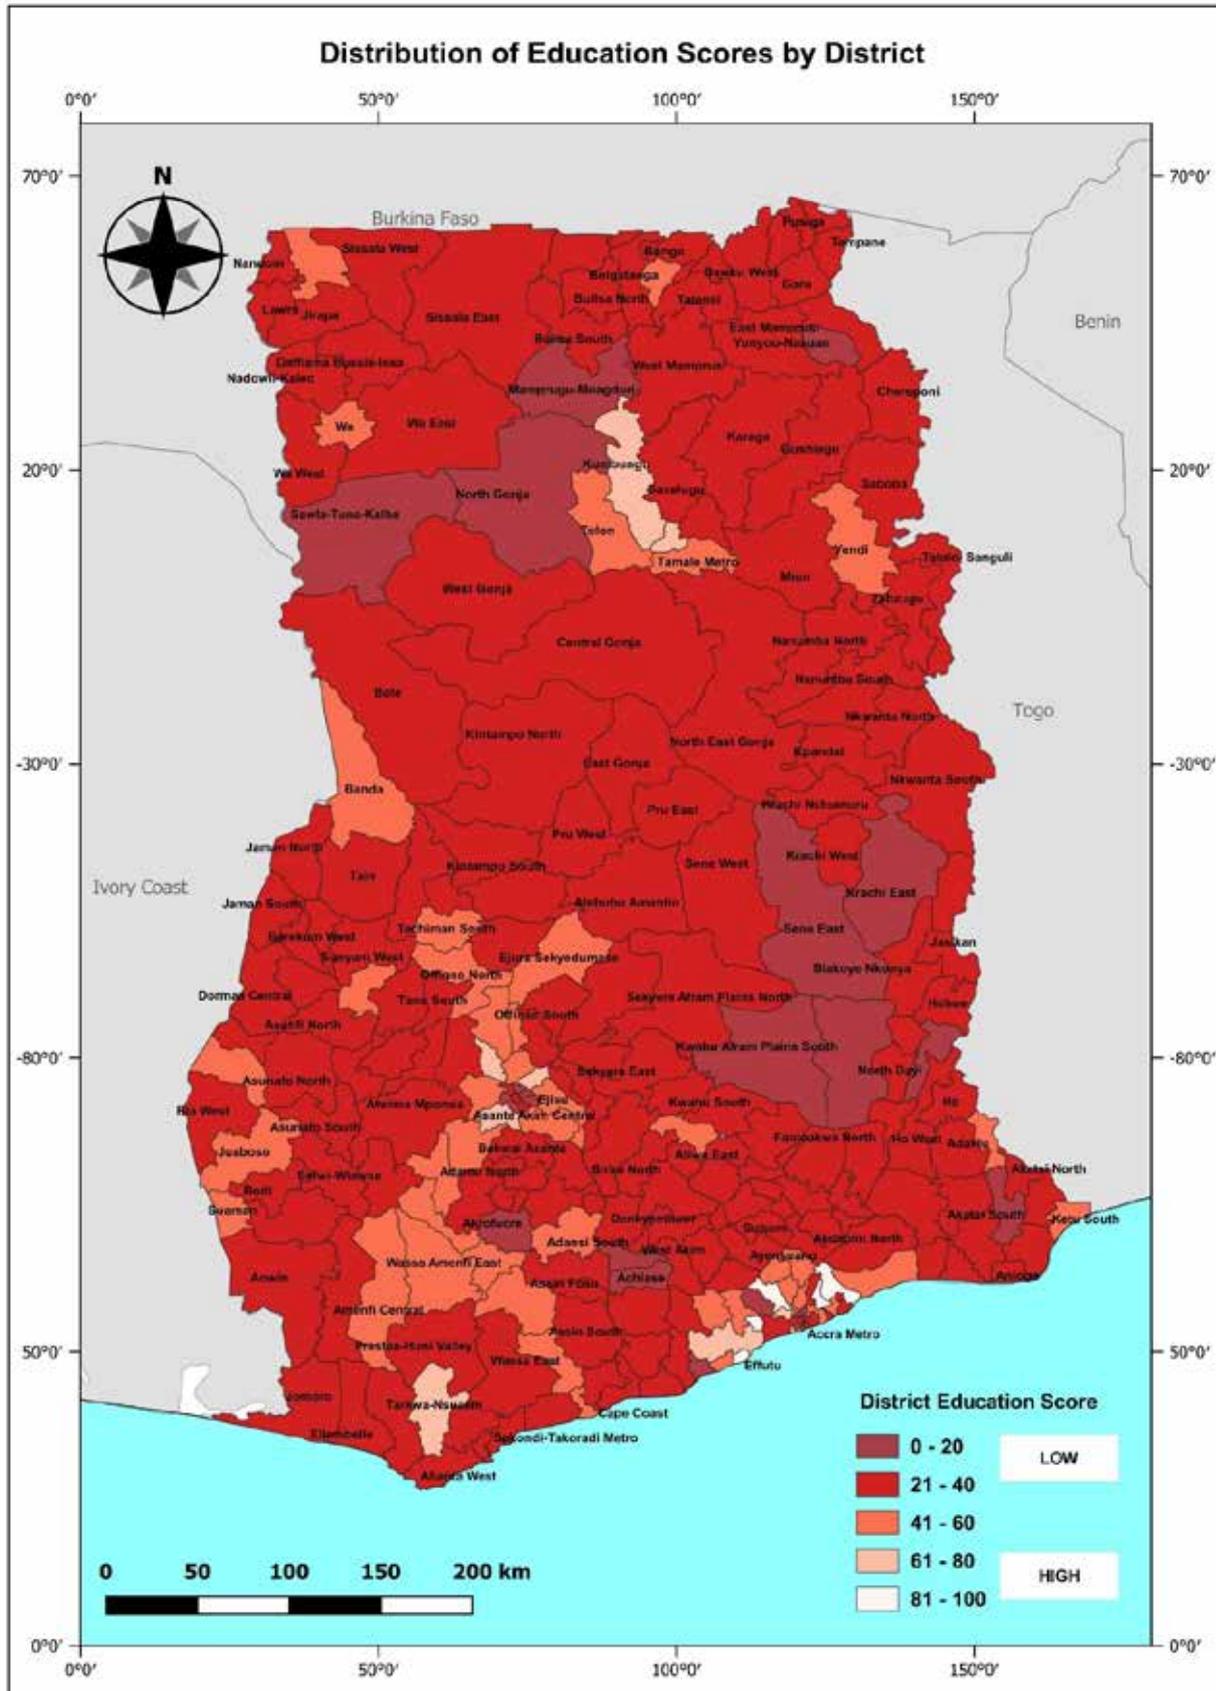

The lowest ranked MMDs in education performance are presented in Table 3. The lowest ranked MMDs is Ayawaso North Municipal in Greater Accra Region—located in the centre of the capital of the country. The net enrolment ratios for both primary and JHS for Ayawaso North Municipal were as low as 28.6 percent and 15.8 percent, compared to the country’s average of 84.4 percent and 44.4 percent, respectively. Also, the completion rates for primary and JHS in the municipality were 27.6 percent and 25.6 percent, compared to the average of 114 percent and 80.1 percent in the country. Interestingly, all the ten lowest ranked MMDs in the education sector are in the Greater Accra Region (4), Ashanti Region (4) and Eastern Region (2).

3.1.2. Regional Analysis

As shown in Figure 1 and Map 2, in the regional analysis, the top ranked regions in the education sector include Central, Greater Accra, Western North and Ashanti Regions. The lowest ranked regions in the education sector are Savannah, North East, Eastern and Oti Regions.

3.2. Health

Indicators used to measure the performance of all districts in the health sector include antenatal care visits, immunization, and skilled delivery rate. Other important indicators such as under five (5) mortality rate was not considered due to unavailability of data for many districts.

3.2.1. District Analysis

Table 4 presents the top ten ranked MMDs in the health sector. The top ten ranked MMDs in the health sector are in five out of the sixteen regions. Four MMDs in the Ashanti Region are part of the top ten ranked in the health sector. Five out of the ten were districts, four were municipals and one was a metropolitan. Shai-Osudoku District in the Greater Accra Region recorded the highest index in the health sector.

Table 4: Top 10 MMDs in Health Sector

Name	Region	Description	Score	Ranking
Shai-Osudoku District	Greater Accra	District	77.44	1
Tamale Metropolitan	Northern	Metropolitan	77.38	2

Offinso North District	Ashanti	District	63.82	8
Ga West Municipal	Greater Accra	Municipal	62.81	9
Ejisu Municipal	Ashanti	Municipal	60.53	10

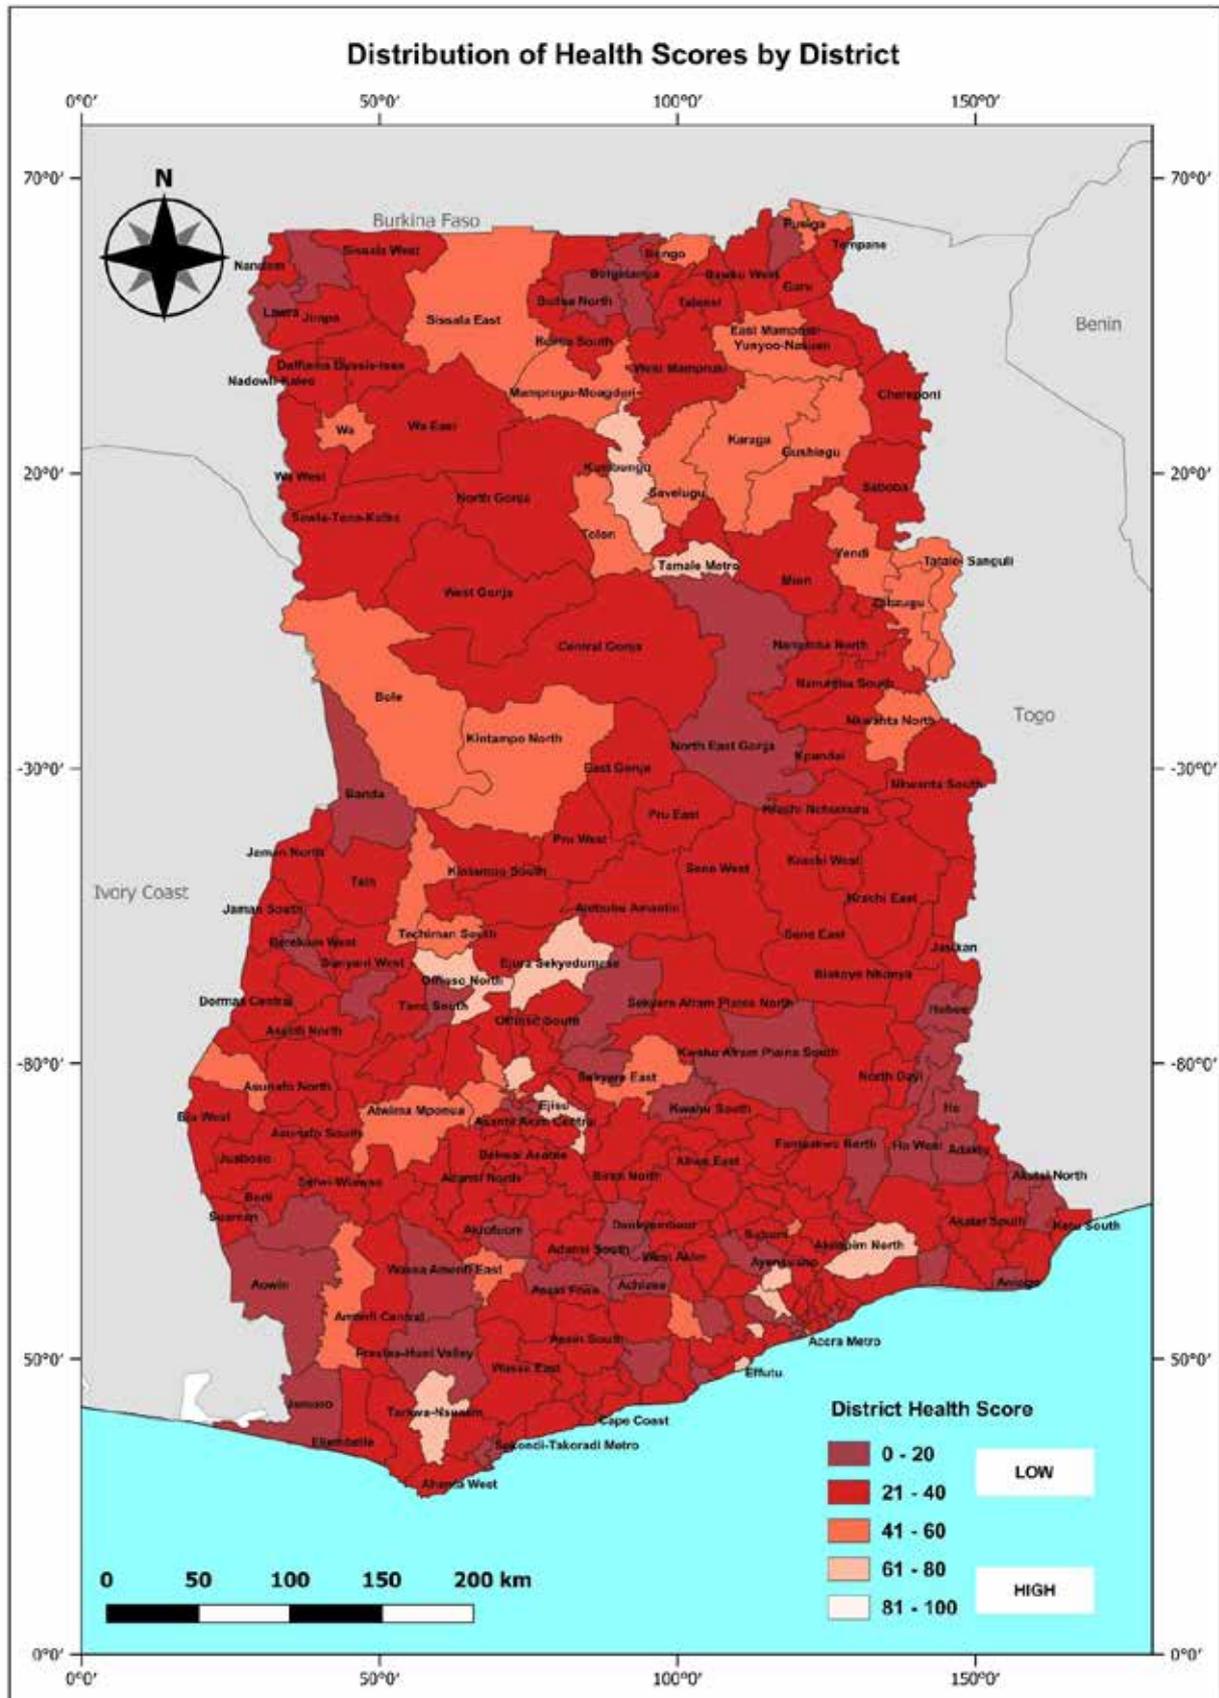

The least-ranked MMDs in the health sector are presented in Table 5. Seven out of the ten MMDs are municipals, with the remaining three being district. Four out of the ten MMDs are in the Greater Accra Region, the capital of the country. The least-ranked MMDs in the health sector is Ablekuma West Municipal, also located in Greater Accra Region. The municipal, for instance recorded skilled delivery attendance of 10.3 percent, compared to the average of 58.1 percent of the country. No district in the five northern regions was recorded among the least ten ranked MMDs in the health sector.

Table 5: Ten (10) MMDs with the Least Scores in Health Sector

Map 3 indicates that the MMDs ranked among the top 20 percent are distributed across the country. Indeed, many of these MMDs are in the Upper East and Northern Regions. However, many of lowest ranked MMDs in the health sector are in the southern part of the country.

3.2.2 Regional Analysis

Figure 2 and Map 4 indicate that the highest ranked regions are Northern, North East, Savannah and Bono East Regions, suggesting that citizens located in these regions have significantly accepted the need for and befitting from antenatal care, immunization and services being delivered by health care professionals. The least ranked regions in health include Volta, Eastern and Bono Regions.

3.3. Water and Sanitation

Provision of water and sanitation is an important measure of progress of wellbeing or development. The following indicators are used to compute an index to measure the performance in the water and sanitation sector:

- Proportion of population with access to basic drinking water services
- Proportion of population with access to improved sanitation services
- Percentage of schools with water
- Percentage of schools with toilet facilities

3.3.1. District Analysis

Table 6 presents the top ten ranked MMDs in the water and sanitation sector. Sixty percent of the top ten ranked MMDs in the water and sanitation sector is in the Greater Accra Region. The fact that Adentan Municipal is the top ranked district in this sector particularly indicates the importance of policies and interventions on service delivery, since it was a district that suffered from water shortage some years ago. Other regions featured in the top ten MMDs are Western North, Central, Eastern and Volta Regions. Seven out of the top 10 ranked MMDs in the water and sanitation sector are municipal/metropolitan.

Water and sanitation problems in Ghana are essentially a rural problem. Table 7 presents results of the sector scores and ranking of the least performing MMDs. All the ten least ranked areas are districts, with seven out of the 10 MMDs located in the northern sector. Chereponi District, in the North East Region, is the lowest ranked district in water and sanitation sector.

3.3.2. Regional Analysis

Figure 3 and Map 6 present regional analysis of MMDs performance in the water and sanitation sector. The figure and the map show that Greater Accra, Central, Volta and Eastern Regions are ranked the top regions in the country. On the other hand, the least ranked regions in the area of water and sanitation are North East, Northern and Bono East Regions.

3.4. Information and Communication Technology (ICT)

Two indicators were used to construct a measure of performance of all MMDs in the ICT infrastructure sector. These are access to computers and access to internet.

3.4.1. District Analysis

Table 8 presents results for the top 10 MMDs in ICT. The table indicates that the use of ICT has been concentrated in the nation's capital (Greater Accra Region). Approximately 90 percent of the top 10 MMDs in the information and communication technology sector is in Greater Accra Region. Only Suame Municipal in the Ashanti Region is among the top ten. Ablekuma North Municipal recorded the highest score in the sectors.

Table 8: Top 10 MMDs in ICT Sector

Name	Region	Description	Score	Ranking

Table 9 presents the least scoring ten MMDs in the ICT sector. With the exception of Sene East District in the Bono Region, all the other nine districts and municipals among the least ten MMDs are in the five (5) regions in the northern part of the country. Mion District is at the bottom of the least-ranked MMDs in the information and communication technology sector of Ghana.

Mion District	Northern	District	0.00	260

Map 7 indicates that the top-ranked MMDs in the ICT sector are concentrated in the middle and southern part of Ghana. In contrast, the least-ranked districts are largely located in the northern part of the country. This indicates unequal provision and distribution of ICT access and use in the country.

3.4.2. Regional Analysis

Figure 4 and Map 8 present regional rankings in the ICT sector. The figure and map indicate that the Greater Accra Region, followed by Ashanti Region, Central Region and Eastern Region form the bloc with access to communication and technology (access to computer and internet access). On the other hand, Northern, Savannah and North East Regions (all carved from the former Northern Region) form the bloc of low ranked regions in respect of access to computer and internet.

3.5. Governance

Governance sector is measured with one indicator, which is the implementation of the annual action plans of MMDs. Since only one indicator is used in this sector, raw scores are used for ranking and analysis. The analyses are presented for both districts and regional levels.

3.5.1. District Analysis

Table 10 presents the top-ranked 10 MMDs in terms of the implementation of annual action plan, as a measure of the governance sector. These comprise of both municipals and districts—four municipals and six districts—across six regions in the country. The Saboba District in the Northern Region ranked first.

Table 10: Top 10 MMDs in Governance Sector

Table 11 presents the least-ranked MMDs in the governance sector. The top ten MMDs include six (6) districts and four (4) municipals. Four MMDs are located in the Eastern Region and two MMDs from Ashanti Region. Savelugu Municipal had the lowest score (equivalent to zero percent) in the implementation of the annual action plan.

Figure 5 and Map 10 present regional ranking in the performance of the governance sector. Greater Accra, Bono, Upper East and Ashanti Regions are among the top ranked regions, while Oti, Ahafo and Eastern regions are in the bottom ranked regions in terms of the implementation of the annual action plan.

4. TOTAL DLT SCORE AND RANKING

The total DLT score measures the overall development by aggregating sectoral scores of metropolitans, municipals and districts. The results of the DLT scores and rankings are presented in figures, maps and tables. The analyses are undertaken at district and regional levels. The overall distributions of achievements of the index and disparities across districts and regions are presented in maps and charts. In the DLT map, the distribution of rankings determined by total scores of the index are indicated by the appropriate colour codes. Metropolitans, municipals and districts among the top 20 percent are coded with cream and the bottom 20 percent are coloured in dark red. The scores and rankings of all MMDs based on total DLT scores are presented in Annex I.

4.1. District Total DLT Analysis

Table 12 indicates that seven out of the top ten ranked MMDs are in the Greater Accra Region. Adentan Municipal in the Greater Accra Region was the highest ranked MMDs in Ghana based on indicators from the five sectors. Two MMDs (Gomoa East District and Awutu Senya East Municipal) from Central Region and one MMD (Tarkwa-Nsuaem Municipal) from Western Region were among the top ten ranked MMDs in Ghana.

Table 12: Top 10 MMDs in DLT Scores

Name	Region	Description	Score	Ranking
Adentan Municipal	Greater Accra	Municipal	78.61	1
Ga West Municipal	Greater Accra	Municipal	75.65	2

La Nkwantanang-Madina Municipal	Greater Accra	Municipal	68.26	9
Shai-Osudoku District	Greater Accra	District	67.25	10

Again, as shown in the Map 11, MMDs with dark red colour, indicating poor performance, are distributed across the country but with high concentration in the Savannah, Northern and North East Regions. There are noticeable disparities in the distribution of DLT performance, even within a region. Top-ranked MMDs are concentrated in the Greater Accra Region. Ashanti Region also house many MMDs within the top 40 percent.

Table 13 presents scores and ranking of the least-ranked MMDs in Ghana. Savelugu is the only municipal area among the least-ranked MMDs. There is no metropolitan area among the least 10 performing MMDs. The bottom ten ranked MMDs are in six regions of the country. Sene East District is ranked last in the country, recording an average score of 32.15 percent from all the five sectors of DLT.

4.2. Regional total DLT Analysis

Table 14 presents the average total score and ranking by region. Map 12 also presents regional rankings based on the total DLT scores. The table indicates that Greater Accra Region recorded the highest score, based on the five sectors of DLT. Only Greater Accra, Central, Ashanti and Western Regions recorded scores above 50 percent. The map also indicates the top 20 percent ranked regions when all sectors and indicators are considered, as well as the least-ranked regions, which are Oti, Savannah and North East Regions. Table 14 indicates that North East Region attained the lowest score, hence the last region.

5. CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Conclusions

This report provides findings of an analysis of a total of 17 indicators from five sectors, measuring the wellbeing of citizens across Ghana's 260 districts. A glance at each of the sectors indicates very wide disparities among the MMDs in Ghana. For example, while the top MMDs scored 95.54 percent in the education index, the last district scored only 11.13 percent; with the water and sanitation sector index, the first district scored 94.46 percent while the last district scored a paltry 21.27 percent. This trend is reflected in almost all the five sectors, suggesting that by some inaction or inadequate action, segments of the population are left behind in terms of service delivery and quality of life. Without a deliberate and sustained effort through better planning, budgetary allocation, effective implementation, and monitoring by national and sub-national level agencies and authorities, service and quality of life across the country will remain unequal, which will cause large sections of the population to be left behind in the march towards achieving the SDGs.

Recommendations for enhanced service delivery at the district level

The DLT concept recognizes that, whereas Central Government still has greatest responsibility for overall national development, District Assemblies have a primary responsibility for local level development, by ensuring that services within their mandate are delivered to the people. Ultimately, all stakeholders have different roles to play to address the imbalance and disparities in resource allocation and wellbeing across all the 260 Districts.

Based on the above overall and sector analysis, it is recommended that MMDAs should pay special attention to the areas/sectors that did not perform well and ensure that through their Annual Action Plans and Annual Budgets, they target and address the challenges facing those areas or sectors.

The DLT is not an evaluation of service delivery at the district level, therefore does not have enough information to make attributions for some MMDAs for higher and lower scores, and why some districts ranked poorly in some indicators or sectors. Nonetheless, this report takes the liberty to recommend that national MDAs adopt the DLT as an additional tool for ensuring more equitable human, financial and logistical resource allocation to the MMDs which ranked lowest in their respective sectors

It is important to reiterate that, because the gaps among MMDs at the sector level and the overall scores are so wide, some deliberate efforts must be made to make resource allocation mechanisms like the District Assemblies Common Fund more equitable, using tools like the DLT and its scores and rankings to strengthen the DACF formula, to target and support low-ranked districts.

It is also recommended that the NDPC, with the support of other partners, should facilitate the conduct of independent evaluations to understand the reasons behind the low-rankings and high-rankings of districts, and generate lessons and recommendations for use in planning and budget allocation at both national and district levels.
